

FOILED AGAIN

With a new shoe collection, Sergio Rossi celebrates an iconic sculptor and furniture designer

Gabriella Crespi isn't one for mass production. Many of the 91-year-old design legend's pieces—which include furniture, jewelry, and objects—are limited-run signed editions. Now, Sergio Rossi is bringing her boldly baroque vision to the shoe floor, with a 15-piece collaboration that includes these gilded heels, inspired by her gold-dripped Goce Oro candelabras.
